From the Vice-Chancellor's Desk

Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor
Prof. Rattan Lal Hangloo

It is my privilege to present this year's Annual Report of the University. The University has made great strides with significant contributions in its academic and administrative fields despite various infrastructural constraints. The University is also conscious of its responsibility towards sustainable environment. I feel happy to share that the University is working on generation of the 1.434 Mega Watts solar energy, which would be supplied to the main grid. The University of Allahabad is one of the premier institutions in North India to initiate the process of fully solar enabled campus, which would contribute clean energy to the main grid. Other than the University, it will also supply electricity to the city during holidays, thus, making it more innovative. The University also initiated long-pending recruitment process (there were no regular recruitments for more than three decades in the University) and recruited new faculty members in different departments / centres so as to make the teacher-taught ratio balanced in some of the departments. More than half a dozen of our Distinguished Teachers had brought laurels for the University when they were shortlisted, for the first time in the history of the University, in the top 10 Universities of the country out of 70 Universities for the Festival of Innovation and Entrepreneurship held at the Rashtrapati Bhawan, New Delhi. It is a matter of great satisfaction that faculty members were awarded prestigious fellowships like the Fulbright Fellowship and associateship of International Centre for Theoretical Physics (ICTP), Italy etc. The University had also sent four students under MoU to Heidelberg University where they had completed one semester. A couple of MoUs had been initiated with different Universities, particularly with the Tennessee University, USA, and Comenius University in Bratislava, Slovakia. Library facilities had been improved, Remotex had been made operational. The University had the unique distinction of getting the largest-ever grant from DST – FIST and DBT. The University has bagged a grant of Rupees Six Crore from UGC for renovation of some of the Departments in the Science Faculty including the Museum of Zoology Department, the Laboratory of Bio-Chemistry Department and Institute for Inter-disciplinary Studies (I.I.D.S.). We also got fund for the Genome Research Foundation, which will facilitate Networking of Research Institutions to the tune of Rs. 10 Crores. Several projects of approximately Rs. 35 Crores have been undertaken by Faculty members. The best ever water facility had been provided in the University Hostels for which the University had to make a special provision with the UGC whereby thousands of liters of water were being provided daily to each of the University Hostels. The University also has got funds for the three new hostels including one international hostel. The University has finalized long-standing demands of the date of eligibility of faculty members after a gap of almost thirty years. The University has also resolved the long pending MACPS matters to the satisfaction of the employees and they are contributing their 100% to the cause of the University.

I am sure that all sections of the University family: the teachers, the students, the employees, the officers and other stakeholders would continue to contribute, as ever, their best to bring laurels to this great Institution of Higher Learning.

MILESTONE OF THE UNIVERSITY

University of Allahabad has always occupied an esteemed place among the universities of India for over a century now. Established on 23rd September 1887, it is the fourth oldest university of India after Calcutta, Bombay and Madras University. The credit for conceiving a large Central College at Allahabad, eventually to develop into a University, is due to Sir William Muir, the then Lt. Governor of United Provinces. As a result of his initiative the foundation stone of the Muir Central College (named after him) was laid on December 9, 1873 by His Excellency Lord Northbrook. On September 23, 1887 Act XVIII was passed which established the Allahabad University. Allahabad University was a centrally-funded Affiliating University exercising jurisdiction over higher and secondary education in a wide area in northern and central India, comprising the present-day States of Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan and the Vidarbha region of Maharashtra. In 1905 it initiated teaching and research under its own aegis, by establishing the Departments of Law (1905), Economics (1908) History (1912), research fellowships, libraries and laboratories. The eminence of the faculty of its teaching Departments, the Muir Central College (the premier affiliate, founded in 1873 at Allahabad) and several other reputed Affiliated Colleges, earned high regard for the University within and outside India. Some of the Colleges themselves matured into Universities the Banaras Hindu University (1916), the Aligarh Muslim University (1920) and the Lucknow and Nagpur Universities (1920 and 1923).

The University was later reorganized as a provincially-funded unitary teaching University, comprising its own teaching Departments and the Departments of the Muir Central College (which was merged with the University). The other Affiliated Colleges were initially grouped under the External Wing of the University and then handed over (in 1927) to the newly-incorporated, University of Agra in 1927, and the responsibility for secondary education was transferred (in 1922) to the U. P Board of High School and Intermediate Education. In the ensuing three decades, under the stewardship of celebrated Vice-Chancellors (Sir Ganganatha Jha, Pt. Iqbal Narain Gurtu, Prof. Amaranatha Jha and Prof. Tara Chand) and the academic leadership of illustrious faculty, the University took determined steps to enlarge its intellectual and educational ambit and gave a lead in national emancipation. Several teachers and students played a prominent role in the national struggle, particularly from 1930, and the University solemnly recalls with pride the martyrdom of its student Lal Padmadhar Singh during the Quit India Movement.

The scholars who gave a distinctive flavour to the academic ambience of the University, from its first venture into teaching in 1905, are too numerous to be named individually, and included such legendary figures as Amaranatha Jha, Raghupati Sahai "Firaq", S. C. Deb and P. E. Dastoor (English), H. N. Randle, R. D. Ranade and A. C. Mukerji (Philosophy), L. F. Rushbrook Williams, Sir Shafaat Ahmad Khan, R. P. Tripathi (History), Syed Muhammad Ali Nami and M. G. Zubaid Ahmad (Arabic and Persian), P. K. Acharya, Babu Ram Saxena and Kshetresh Chandra Chattopadhyaya (Sanskrit), Dharendra Verma, Devi Prasad Shukla and Ram Kumar Verma (Hindi), Syed M. Zamin Ali and Muhammad Hafiz Syed (Urdu), Beni Prasad, Tara Chand, Ishwari Prasad (all three being historians of repute) and A. B. Lal (Political Science), R. N. Dubey (Geography), P. S. Naidu (Education), Meghnad Saha, K. S. Krishnan, D. S.

Kothari, Salig Ram Bhargava, R. N. Ghosh G. B. Deodhar and K Banerjee (Physics), N. R Dhar, Satyeshwar Ghosh and Satya Prakash (Chemistry), A C. Banerji, Gorakh Prasad, P. L. Srivastava and B. N. Prasad (Mathematics), J. H. Mitter, Shri Ranjan, R. K. Saxena and R. N. Tandon (Botany), D. R. Bhattacharya and H. R. Mehra (Zoology), H. Stanley Jevons, S. K. Rudra, C. D. Thompson, B. P. Adarka and J. K. Mehta (Economics), M. K. Ghosh and R. C. Choudhury (Commerce) and J C. Weir, M. U. S. Jung, K. K. Bhattacharya, K. R. R. Sastry and T. N. Sapru (Law) During this "Golden Age", the University was often referred to as "The Oxford of the East".

With the advent of Independence, the University gave priority to the rising expectations of the people for wider access to higher education and keeping pace with the world in higher education, took up concerns crucial to national and social reconstruction. The Seventieth Anniversary Celebrations (1957) were marked by the affirmation to concert intellectual resources for exploring new academic, educational and social horizons while conserving its classical heritage. The Centenary Celebrations (1987) provided the opportunity to reaffirm the goal of academic modernization predicated on social responsibility

The University did, however, face difficulties in mobilising resources for the pursuit and fulfilment of its intents and objectives. This paved the way for a concerted campaign, which began with the Seventieth Anniversary and was re-invigorated from the Centenary Celebrations, for the re-incorporation of the University as a Central University. These efforts, which were immeasurably, strengthened by the support of the Alumni in different fields of national life, bore fruit in 2005, with the adoption by Parliament of "The University of Allahabad Act, 2005", and its enforcement on July 14, 2005.

This restoration of the original 'Central Status' has inaugurated a new Chapter in the evolution of the University, and occasioned a fresh resolve to realize its earlier stature as an internationally acclaimed institution of higher learning. The University is now poised for exploring new dimensions of institutional accomplishment, by renovating its academic system, reinforcing and augmenting its teaching, research and residential facilities and pursuing social purposes in a coordinated manner, to keep pace with international standards in these areas and endow human resource with the capabilities to serve the nation in the special context of the challenges and imperatives of globalization.

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

Introduction:

The Department of Anthropology was established in the year 1985 and was seated in the Senate House Building of the University. In year 2003 it was shifted to the ground floor of the Banda Guest House building in the University. The Department was again shifted in 2016 to the first floor of the newly constructed academic building of the University called New Academic Complex.

For more than three decades the Department of Anthropology has contributed immensely to the academic environment of the university. The Department provides education at both UG and PG levels and trains D.Phils in Anthropology who later become scholars working in academic and development sectors all over the country. Our graduates are working across various sectors such as state civil services, central civil services, public sector units, academics as well as development sectors.

Academic rigour and theoretical analysis marks the books written by the AU anthropologists. Stalwarts like Prof. ARN Srivastava and Prof. Vijay Sahay are witness to this intellectual tradition who have major contributions to the field of Anthropology. At present we have faculty members who have a modern approach to teaching and research representing a range of contemporary research interests spanning from tribal issues to anthropology of body. Our faculty members are busy researching some of the most burning issues of our time such as culture of consumption, anthropology of disaster, mental health and culture, forensic anthropology, socio-biology, tribal health, gender, etc. The most typical feature of anthropological courses is the mandatory exposure to fieldwork where our students are trained with modern research tools and techniques in the field of anthropology. Our faculty members have published research papers in many referred national and international journals.

DEPARTMENT OF ARABIC AND PERSIAN

Introduction:

The Department of Arabic & Persian is as old as the Muir Central College, Allahabad itself. The renowned scholar Maulavi Zakaullah of Delhi had the honour to grace the chair as the first Head of Arabic and Persian Department. His ancestors were great scholars and had the opportunity to teach the Moghal Princess for many generations.

Maulavi Zakaullah's interest was not confined to the Oriental Languages alone. He was a versatile genius and a great scholar of Mathematics and Science. He has written 143 books on various subjects other than Arabic & Persian.

Maulavi Zakaullah was succeeded by Maulavi Amjad Ali who organized Arabic and Persian courses and examinations during his Headship. The Degrees of Maulavi, Alim, Munshi, Kamil and Fazil were being awarded by the University but later on the job of awarding these degrees was handed over to U.P. Government.

Maulavi Mohiuddin Jafari, Maulavi Mohd. Ali Nami and Maulavi Mahdi Hasan Nasiri were also teachers in the department. Besides, teaching Arabic and Persian Mohd Ali Nami could compose poetry in Persian, when a delegation of Iran visited this University in 1944 he welcomed the members of the delegation with his Persian poems.

In 1922 the University organized B.A. and M.A. courses in different subjects and made provision for conducting research. A galaxy of scholars were appointed in Arabic & Persian among whom Dr. A. S. Siddiqui, Dr. Zubaid Ahmad and Naimur Rahman are most important.

After India achieved independence, a high powered Arabic and Persian committee was constituted which was presided over by Hon'ble Maulana Abul Kalam Azad (Education Minister of India) and a few more renowned scholars who were nominated members of that body. From Allahabad University Prof. Naimur Rahman and Prof. M.G. Zubaid Ahmad were nominated members of that body.

Dr. Zubaid Ahmad found an able successor in Dr. Saeed Hasan who was a man of varied abilities and served the University in a number of capacities.

Another renowned scholar of Persian Dr. Shabih Ahmad was also on the staff who is still remembered by his admirers. Dr. M.A. Siddiqui succeeded Dr. Saeed Hasan. He was a studious man who wrote a number of books and articles. Dr. M. A. Siddiqui was succeeded by Prof. M. Rafiq, a true scholar who laid great emphasis on the acquisition of knowledge and hard work than on merely passing examinations. Other teachers of the department were Prof. H. G. Murtaza, Prof. A. L. Al-Hindi, Mrs. Shabbir Fatimah, Mrs. U.K. Rizvi, Prof. Syed Tufail Ahmad etc.

The Govt. of India has been honouring prominent scholars of Arabic, Persian and Sanskrit on the eve of Independence Day each year. Prof. A. S. Siddiqui, Prof. M. A. Siddiqui, Prof. S.M.I. Nadvi, Prof. S. T. Ahmad and the present Head, Prof. Abdul Qadir Jafari are recipients of this prestigious National President Award. Prof. Jafari was felicitated by the Hon'ble Chancellor of on his first visit in 2006 also.

Apart from this the Department has produced a good number of distinguished Arabic and Persian scholars, administrators and diplomats who served and are serving in the country and abroad.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

Introduction:

The Department of Economics became a truly full-fledged department in 1914, with the appointment of Herbert Stanley Jevons (son of the marginalist, W.S. Jevons) as the first Professor of Economics and Head. A post-graduate course was also introduced the same year, so that the fledgling department offered both, under-graduate and post-graduate courses. Prof. Jevons also founded the Indian Journal of Economics, in the year 1916, the first economics journal ever to be published in India. This is the oldest existing journal of Economics and is regularly published. In an article, published in its first volume in 1916 and available even today in the Department, Prof. Jevons wrote that his academic purpose was “teaching to think and to do, rather than of teaching only to know”.

This legacy of his was faithfully adhered to by stalwarts like Professors C.D.Thompson, A.R.Burnett-Hurst and S.K.Rudra, Mr. B.P.Adarkar, and later by Professors J.K.Mehta, P.C.Jain, S.L.Parmar, Mahesh Chand and many others. Faculty members such as Prof. H.S. Jevons, Prof. C.D. Thompson, Prof. S.K. Rudra and Prof. J.K.Mehta became Presidents of the Indian Economic Association Conferences of 1922, 1934, 1946, and 1968 respectively. Former faculty of the Department who became Presidents were Dr. M.V. Mathur (1967), Prof. Gautam Mathur (1978) and Prof. P.D. Hajela (1980). Allahabad had the proud privilege of hosting I.E.A. conferences in the years 1920, 1929 and 1940.

The Department also has a Planning and Development Unit, created through an endowment by the Planning Commission, Government of India, with the renowned development economist, Jean Dreze as the Honorary Chair Professor. The UGC also selected the Department under Special Assistance Programme (SAP) in 2004-05, DRS- I level. It was further renewed in 2009-10, DRS-II level. The Department looks ahead further to convert it into a Centre for Advanced Study. The Department offers a UGC - approved one year employment-oriented, Post Graduate Diploma in Foreign Trade Practices and Procedures (DFTPP) since 2002-03. The Departmental library has more than fifteen thousand books and it subscribes 35 national and international journals, along with about 40 journals received under exchange basis through the Indian Journal of Economics. It is in the process of modernization through digital cataloguing. The Department also has a Statistical/Computer laboratory for the research scholars. Prof. P.C. Jain an alumni of the Department contributed significantly to the establishment of the Departmental library in the present form.

In order to maintain the excellent standard in teaching, the faculty members are continuously involved in updating their knowledge. Apart from regular teaching the Department is actively involved in academic extra curricular activities like mootings, legal debates, legal quiz etc. The Department is also actively involved in diverse extension and outreach activities through different programs like providing legal literacy, legal services, with help of “Legal aid, Cell”, prison visits are conducted by joint efforts of the faculty and students of the department. Students are also attached to lawyer’s chambers and they are also taken to observe the proceedings in the court. The department, keeping in view the importance of creating awareness of Law in masses has started an inclusive programme related to Legal Literacy in near by villages named “चलो गाँव की ओर” Taking forward its commitments towards Legal Literacy and free Legal Aid the Department inaugurated a ‘Legal Aid and Services Clinic’ on 09.11.2017.

FACULTY OF SCIENCE

DEPARTMENT OF BIOCHEMISTRY

Introduction:

The Department of Biochemistry was established in 1968, and was one of the few Departments in the country to start a Master's course in Biochemistry. In view of the growing importance of Biochemistry, both as a basic science as well as a broad based discipline, the Department introduced Biochemistry at the undergraduate level in the year 2000. The Department presently offers a 3-year undergraduate program (B.Sc.) with Biochemistry as one subject, a 2-year Master's program (M.Sc. Biochemistry), and a Doctoral program. Department organizes weekly students' seminars and frequent invited lectures by leading scientists from across the world, with a view to develop quality personnel in the field of Biochemistry. The National Conference on 'Emerging Trends in Biochemistry' organized by the Biochemistry department in 2010 assumes special status because lead papers presented in this Conference were published in the Cellular and Molecular Biology, a peer-reviewed international journal published from France.

The Department has faculty strength of eight members. The research interests of the faculty include: oxidative stress and antioxidants, xenobiotic metabolism, molecular biology of HIV-1, anti-HIV-1 drug design, toxicology, aging research and anti-aging interventions, micronutrients and their role in health, association of polymorphism with cancer and natural product based anti-microbials, hepatoprotectants and anticancer agents. The faculty is engaged in collaborative research with several institutions and universities.

DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY

Introduction:

The Department of Botany which was earlier a part of Biology Department of Muir Central College started as a separate entity in the year 1923, with Dr. J.H Mitter as the founder Head of the Department. Now the department has completed 94 years of its glorious existences under the stewardship of eminent botanists like Prof. S Ranjan, FNI, Prof. R.K. Saxena, FNI, Prof. R.N. Tandon, FNA, Dr. A.K. Mitra and Prof. D.D. Pant, FNA. and others who have adorned the professorial chair of the department. All of them maintained the great tradition of excellence in research and teaching. The department is known for multidisciplinary character and has earned international recognition for its standard of teaching and research producing eminent scholars and administrators, who have occupied or occupying high positions in and outside the country. In recognition of its academic excellence, the department of botany was awarded two prestigious programmes by the UGC 1- The special assistance programme (1976) 2- The COSIST support programme (1990).

- ❖ Roxburgh botanical garden and Experimental farm- The department is maintaining perhaps the best botanical garden in the country which is famous for the rich collection of rare Pteridophytes, Gymnosperms and Angiosperms. It is maintaining the best collection of rare Cycads and Conifers. Besides these garden is also maintaining some rare and endangered plants of Pteridophyte and Angiosperm. The avenue of bottle palms and panels of different plant give panoramic view to the garden.
- ❖ Agharkar Museum- The department has a Botanical Museum which is located on the first floor of east wing of the botany department. The museum is named after Dr. S.P. Agharkar, whose name figures among the legendary botanist of the country. The museum is well known for its rare collection of living and fossil plant belonging to different plant groups from Algae to Angiosperm.
- ❖ Duthie Herbarium- The department is maintaining the best collection of herbarium plants of various groups like Bryophytes, Pteridophytes, Gymnosperms and Angiosperms. It includes the rare prized collection of Duthie, King, Kustler, Dudgeon, Cave, Wallich and Gamble. There are nearly 25000 specimens. It has also the rich flora of different districts of UP.
- ❖ Central Instrumentation laboratory- Department has central instrument facility (CIL) which has AAS and UV-Vis spectrophotometer.
- ❖ Departmental Library-The Departmental Library contains about 13,000 books on Botany and 250 books on Environmental Science. The Library reading room can accommodate about 100 students at a time and it remains open to the teachers, post graduate students and research students of the Department from 8.00 am to 6.00 p.m.

Thrust Areas:

The department offers teaching in three main courses at the post-graduate level: 1. Botany, 2. Agricultural Botany, and 3. Environmental science. All the post-graduate courses are having semester system. The under-graduate programme is integrated with B.Sc. curriculum of the Faculty of Science. The curricula are continuously updated. The ongoing research programme emphasizes diverse areas of functional, structural, applied and evolutionary botany. The main emphasis is given on the following areas which are identified by UGC as areas of excellence in the department:

- 1- Palaeobotany, Morphology and Anatomy
- 2- Plant Pathology including Microbiology
- 3- Plant Physiology

The laboratories are well equipped with latest instruments.

There are other areas of interest like Taxonomy, Bio-diversity, Palynology, Ecology, Cytogenetics and Molecular Biology which are also attaining excellence.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Introduction

The Department of Chemistry is one of the oldest and most prominent departments of the University of Allahabad. It started functioning in 1872 under the principal ship of Prof. Harrison, who took keen interest in the development of this department. Prof Hill was responsible for managing the teaching of Chemistry. This department earned significant popularity on national/international scenario under the able guidance of Pro. N.R. Dhar, I.E.S. He was a distinguished scholar and pioneer researcher in the field of Physical Chemistry, Inorganic Chemistry and Soil Sciences. He served as Head of the Department from 1922-1938 and 1946-1953. The rich traditions set by Prof. Dhar were successfully executed by his successors Prof. S.Ghosh and Prof. Satya Prakash and hoard of other brilliant teachers, who contributed to develop the Department into centre of high learning. Encouraged by the past glory, the department is striving hard to create a niche for itself in national and international domains of teaching and research. As a result it was selected as a Centre for Special Assistance by U.G.C. in 1978, selected for an aid under COSIST in 1996 and very recently for DST FIST in 2012.

The Department's vision is to promote excellence in Chemistry education and its mission is to blend theoretical knowledge of Chemistry with practical skills.

DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRONICS AND COMMUNICATION

J.K. Institute of Applied Physics & Technology, University of Allahabad

Introduction:

Soon after the independence, the first Prime Minister of India, Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru realized the need of a pioneer institute in the field of Applied Physics and related subjects. On his initiative an agreement was made between University of Allahabad and J.K. trust, Kanpur on November 22, 1947, to establish the J.K. Institute of Applied Physics and Technology in the premise of Faculty of Science, University of Allahabad. J. K. Charitable trust contributed for the construction of the complete building of the institute. The foundation stone was laid by late Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru, on April 14, 1949. Pt. Nehru also inaugurated the first academic session of the institute on April 4, 1956. Initially a 3 year post-graduate degree course named as M.Sc. (Technology) was started in the department. Later in 1970, on the advice of AICTE, the course was converted to a post B.Sc. – three year degree course (B.Tech. in Electronics and Communication) and a new course in M.Tech. (Electronics Engineering) was introduced. Undergraduate course (B.Sc.) in computer science was started in 1982. The Post graduate course in Computer Science (Software) was started in the year 1986. The Defence Research and Development Organization (DRDO) had selected the institute as a center to generate man power in computer science (Software). In 2008, a three year B.Tech. (Electronics and Communication) course was replaced by four year B.Tech. (Electronics and Communication Engineering) degree course and a new branch, Computer Science and Engineering, was also introduced. The institute has a very good placement record and the Alumni of University are spread throughout the world and are occupying key positions in their field.

The department is going to start a new course Master of Computer Applications (MCA) from the session 2018-19.

TECHNO CUP 2K17 (T-20 cricket tournament)

The department organized most prestigious T-20 cricket tournament (Techno Cup) between Jan.26-30, 2017. Here nine teams took part including JK Alumni Team. It was inaugurated by Prof. R.L. Hangloo, Vice Chancellor, University of Allahabad. At this moment Prof. R.K.P. Singh (Dean Student Welfare AU), Prof. Harsh Kumar (Proctor AU), Prof. N.K. Shukla (Registrar AU) and Prof. J.A. Ansari were also present. Prof. Nar Singh heartily welcomed Vice Chancellor by his speech that stated his memoirs of Techno Cup from its founding day to this day with the presence of our chief guest which was inspirational. Prof. RL Hangloo appreciated our efforts to conduct a cricket tournament to such a grand level and guided us as to how sports are so essential amidst academics and research. Bouquet were presented to the dignitaries by students. On this occasion Prof. Hangloo also presented lifetime achievement award to Prof. Nar Singh. The tournament was won by J.K. alumni team consisting of JK alumni, teachers & research scholars of the department. Prof. Nar Singh was adjudged as Man of the final match and Mr. Pradeep Ptathak got the Man of the tournament award. Er. M.M. Agnihotri, GM BSNL Allahabad and Prof. Rajeev Tripathi, Director MNNIT Allahabad distributed were distributed prizes.

The presence of Dr. R.L. Hangloo, Vice Chancellor of Allahabad University, Mr. MM Agnihotri, General Manager BSNL, Rajiv Tripathi, HOD MNNIT Allahabad, and our esteemed professors including Nar Singh, HOD JK Institute and many others brought extreme pride and joy to all the students. This level of participation by dignitaries and students happened first time in the history of JK Institute. This 5days' tournament from 26th January to 30th January has marked many beautiful memories in our mind that are difficult to forget and moreover nobody would want to. It also includes the celebration of republic day and 60th year of JK.

FINAL MATCH

Everybody waited for the final match between MSc. team and Research and faculty team. This match was found exciting to many. Both the teams tried their best to win but when Prof. Nar Singh took 3 wickets in 3 overs and the opponent team scored only 20 runs during his bowling and in the last over Prof. Rajiv Srivastava took 2 wickets and gave only 1 run then we had a clear winner. The Research Scholars and faculty team had won the Techno Cup tournament. The audience shouted in delight and was proud to behold such terrific performance by players who were research scholars, alumni and of course professors. It was with pride we saw Prof. Nar Singh being honoured with Man of the match by respected MM Agnihotri GM, BSNL. He also privileged the winning team by giving the winning shield. The title of Man of the Series was offered to Pradeep Pathak by Prof. Nar Singh. With a cause of celebration, we also had another reason. Yes, it was the 60th birthday of JK Institute. Everyone enjoyed the end of the tournament in unison and celebrated the 60th annual year of JK. Balloons were released that marked the announcement of “60”th year from the sky throughout the university. It seemed as if the shrine of the AU with its high tower and a large dome was witnessing our joyful festive. Everyone was happy and took selfies and photos of professors and each other. With this, the tournament came to its end for this year. It was a kind gesture of our honorable Vice Chancellor that he encouraged the team of organizers by giving them t-shirts that had his quote “Let us make Allahabad University centre of liberal wide learning and not a reservoir of frustration and conflict.”

The captain of the winner team i.e. Research Scholars and Faculty was Prof. Nar Singh, the runner up team: MSc team was Pavan Mishra and the 2nd runner up team i.e. Jitendra Yadav are man of talents and were well appreciated during their gameplay.

DEPARTMENT OF HOME SCIENCE

Introduction:

The Department of Home Science was established in 1945, in pre independent India, with the mission of educating Indian women. At the time a two year course of undergraduate level was initiated in the department. In 1969 the UGC recommended to the University to open post graduate degree for women in Home Science department. At this juncture Prof. Radha Pant was the Head of Home Science. She took the opportunity to establish a Biochemistry Department in the building of Home Science. Gradually all the teachers of Home Science retired and the two departments came to be named as Department of Biochemistry and Home Science. In 2000 the Hon Governor of U.P. ordered that the Home Science Department to be bifurcated from Biochemistry Department. Dr. S. Srivastava took charge in 2003. The department has since then been working with a single permanent faculty. The department runs a 3 year degree course comprising of 16 papers and 14 related practical. The U.G programme is a skill based programme. It's a multidisciplinary subject having post graduation in four subjects namely:

- Food and Nutrition
- Textile and Apparel Designing
- Human Development
- Family Resource Management
- Currently the department with its limited resources of having only one permanent faculty member runs P.G. in Textile and Apparel Designing. The department has 8 Research Scholars.

Thrust Areas:-

It is a multidisciplinary subject. Subjects like community nutrition, diet therapy, interior decoration, culinary skill development, apparel designing and stitching, flower arrangement. Each theory paper is accompanied with related practical. Student also sent the community to share with their laboratory experience. Folk songs and street plays are scripted and enacted by the students to foster behavioral changes in the masses. Students are ready to work as entrepreneurs, dieticians, boutique owners, flowerists and confectionary, after the finish their undergraduate degree.

The department has a post graduate professional course in Textile and Apparel designing (TAD). The thrust in the course is to turn them into expert in dress designing, CAD & tailoring. After this course the students are industry ready.

- Innovative researches on dyes
- Value added product to enhance health of vulnerable group
- Developing skills for entrepreneurship
- Cutting edge research to help the Textile and readymade industry to cope with current needs.

DEPARTMENT OF ZOOLOGY

Introduction:

The Department of Zoology is one of the oldest Departments of University of Allahabad. The Department came into existence in the year 1906 with Prof. F.M. Howlett in the chair. He was succeeded by the world renowned entomologist, Prof. A.D. Imms. The Department not only flourished but reached the zenith of glory under the able stewardship of Prof. W.N.F. Woodland, Prof. D. R. Bhattacharya, Prof. M.D.L. Srivastava and Prof. U.S. Srivastava.

Apart from quality teaching the Department has been in the forefront in scientific research. The faculty members are actively involved in research, publishing high quality research papers in national and international journals with high impact factor like Springer, Elsevier, Wileys, Taylor & Francis and Cambridge journals. A lot of contribution has been made in the field of neurobiology under the supervision of Prof. U.C. Srivastava who has been awarded Emeritus Professor by UGC, New Delhi. Entomology is another thrust area of research being pursued under the supervision of Prof. Krishna Kumar to explore the effect of hormones/juvenoids for insect pest management. Prof. S. K. Malhotra is associated with the research in the field of Parasitology. Prof R. S. Pandey is associated with the research in Biochemistry. Any other information (about the department/Center)

- The Infrastructure provided to the Centre is very limited. It accommodates no more than 25 students so it becomes difficult to organize lectures for a large number of students.
- The Centre does not have a washroom facility and the staff has to go very far for that purpose.
- No funding received from the UGC for the past 4 years of 2014-15, 2015-16, 2016 -17, 2017-2018. The Centre has to function on small loans from the University. Delayed funding from the UGC has severely hampered the growth and development of the Centre.
- The Centre needs Assistant Professor and Associate Professor to run the M. A. Course.
- The Centre needs more space to run the M.A. Course

CENTRE FOR DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

Introduction:

Centre for Development Studies is a pioneering centre at the University of Allahabad, a Central University, established by an Act of the Indian Parliament, to study and research phenomena and processes of globalization and development with inter-disciplinary approaches.

Globalization is being viewed with varieties of perspectives ranging from epistemological, analytical and critical to grassroots civil society and public action across the world. Sometimes, it is simply viewed as polemic and semantic. Of late, this phenomenon has assumed enormous significance, which necessitates its critical examination from multi-disciplinarian perspectives as it tends to influence each and every domain of our life either in a minor or major way. This is also seen as a shaping factor of the world in the twenty-first century as it could lead to restructuring of the global order, economies and societies having implications on the overall development discourse/s, especially since the end of the Cold War.

At the same time, contemporary ideas of development are also undergoing process of redefinitions in all fields of intellectual enquiry as well as leading to debates and dissents. These processes affect not only economic development of the countries through integration of capital but also bear implications for human development, discourses of rights and entitlements and boundaries of nation-states.

Furthermore, it is equally important to get engaged from the point of the developing societies like India and others. Currently, these societies are undergoing various processes of transformation that require in-depth enquiry so as to understand its relevance for academicians, researchers, policy makers and general people at large.

Thrust Areas:

- Globalization as a historical process across the world, Socio-eco-political and regional linkages.
- Planning (Rural and Urban) vis-à-vis globalization and development

K. BANERJEE CENTRE OF ATMOSPHERIC AND OCEAN STUDIES

Introduction:

The research in the area of Climate Dynamics Modelling has been started in the University of Allahabad with the establishment of twin centres namely K. Banerjee Centre of Atmospheric and Ocean Studies (KBCAOS) and M. N. Saha Centre of Space Studies (MNSCOSS) in the year 2000 and 2001 respectively with the financial support from National Centre of Atmospheric and Ocean Research (NCAOR), Goa (Ministry of Earth Science (MoES)) and Indian Space Research Organization (ISRO) under the academic leadership of Dr Avinash C Pandey. The faculties associated with these centres have successfully completed projects funding of more than Rs. 5.00 crores. KBCAOS participated in the scientific expedition to Southern Ocean/Antarctica on board R/V Akademik Boris Petrov (ABPetrov) in 2006 and 2009 to obtain surface, atmospheric and oceanic data of southern ocean. KBCAOS and MNSCOSS has multi-disciplinary and multi-institutional character, which made them national centers working in close collaboration with other national/international institutions involved in Ocean and Atmosphere modelling research. Several scholars have already obtained doctoral degree from the centers in a wide variety of topics dealing with Mathematical Modeling of Atmosphere and Ocean and are well placed in the academic and research institutions of its repute. UGC has recognized KBCAOS and MNSCOSS as centers with potential of research excellence and established new permanent Department/Centre of Atmospheric and Ocean Science (AOS) at University of Allahabad, which came in existence on 29th October, 2009. The state-of-the art computing facility is available to perform Atmospheric and Ocean Modeling at AOS/ KBCAOS/ MNSCOSS. The department/centre has High Performance Computing (HPC) having one master node and 17 Compute nodes. In addition to this the department/centre has multiprocessor workstations of SGI, USA and HP.

Faculties of the department/centre are well exposed and trained at leading national and international institutions of its excellence as evidenced from their bio-data. The AOS has active research collaboration with International Centre for Theoretical Physics (Italy), Centre for Ocean-Land-Atmosphere Studies (COLA), USA, Columbia University, New York, USA and John Hopkins University, USA.

High Fluence Ion Beam Facility: Accelerator Center made functional

Introduction:

The High Fluence Ion Beam facility at University of Allahabad is complementary to the existing accelerator facilities in our country, as presently there is no facility, which can provide the fluence planned. We have acquired a state of the art supernanogan ion source as described above.

It will be operated as a User facility with time allotment for approved projects by a National Accelerator User Committee (NAUC) or by a User Committee closely associated with NAUC.

Thrust Areas:

- The objective is to run the accelerator based research facility in Allahabad University using ECR ion source to create an environment for pursuing experimental work in interdisciplinary areas.
- Accelerator based laboratory will provide best possible environment for training human resource as it encompasses latest technologies such as data analysis, computer control, analog and digital instrumentation, Ultra high vacuum, etc.
- It will be gradually developed for providing opportunity to younger generation to get involved in projects involving state of the art technologies.
- An in-house facility of this type in the university will most certainly help in attracting students towards experimental sciences.

(Four Semesters) Programme} under the Coordinator-ship/ Directorship (Honorarium basis) in Department of Botany, University of Allahabad, efforts will made to retrieve funds under CSR (Corporate- Social Responsibility) from Coal India, NTPC, IFFCO, and Private Industry viz., Kirloskar, Mahindra Tractors, Monsanto etc. In addition to this, the Ministry of Rural Technology and Ministry of Small and Medium Scale Industries, Govt. will also render support in establishing an independent centre of Rural Technology and Development which will incorporate advancement of technological and social aspect of rural development.

OBJECTIVES AT A GLANCE

- Assessment of rural area and people.
- Rural Entrepreneurships (self-employment through sericulture, lac farming, flower farming, mushroom culture, bee keeping, preparation of natural dyes, bio composting, E-waste management, Biofertilizers etc.).
- Safe and eco-friendly technologies promotion and their compatibility amongst villagers.
- Conservation and promotion of indigenous knowledge.
- Socio-nutritional-economic development of indigenous peoples through appropriate integrated technology and awareness.
- Generating awareness regarding government policies (monitoring and documentation).
- Rural planning and implementation of rural development projects.
- To develop skill in students to for aforementioned tasks.

CENTRE OF BEHAVIORAL AND COGNITIVE SCIENCES

Introduction:

The University Grants Commission (UGC) selected the University of Allahabad for developing an Island of Excellence in Behavioural and Cognitive Sciences. The Centre of Behavioural and Cognitive Sciences (CBCS) was established in 2002.

MISSION OF THE CENTRE

The Centre aims to achieve excellence in education and research meeting new developments and challenges. The Centre endeavours for advancement of scientific knowledge through basic and applied research and conducts outreach programmes for larger human welfare.

While it began in the mid-1950s, "Cognitive Science" has established itself as a truly interdisciplinary subject, having roots in psychology and interfaces with philosophy, computer science, mathematics, linguistics and neurosciences in the last three decades. The discipline of Cognitive Science is an intellectual enterprise that studies computational and neural mechanisms underlying mental processes by drawing on resources from a number of disciplines. The academic programs of the Centre include Doctoral and Master programs in Cognitive Science.

The goal of the teaching programme is to enrich students with knowledge of mental structures and processes, physical and chemical laws that govern the activities of brain, and computational models of cognitive processes. There is lot of emphasis on Master's thesis projects where in the students get trained in the state of the art experimental designs and analysis also resulting in presentations in major conferences as well as publications. The Centre has an excellent environment to pursue an interdisciplinary field like Cognitive Science.

CENTRE OF FOOD TECHNOLOGY

Introduction:

The creation of Centre of Food Technology under Institute of Professional Studies was done with a vision to encompass food science, food production, food processing, food technology, food safety, food management, entrepreneurship development, food processing and rural development; agriculture and industry linkage through food processing, quality assurance for safe food, research and development on functional foods. M.Sc. Nutritional Sciences was started in year 2000. M.Sc. Food Technology programme was initiated in July 2002 as per the guidelines of UGC and ICAR. This was facilitated by a grant from Ministry of Food processing Industries, Govt. of India under its "Manpower Development Programme". The Centre has been sanctioned nearly Rs. 1 crore by MoFPI for setting up a commercial quality control laboratory to serve the industry in surrounding areas by providing testing services for quality assurance and food safety. The Centre is currently offering M.Sc. and Ph.D. degree programmes. In 2015, UGC has also sanctioned about Rs. 90 lakh for offering B.Voc. Food Processing and Technology in linkage with Sector Skill Council which has been started from the year 2015.

Recently, the Centre has established an NABL accredited Food Analysis and Research Laboratory for commercial testing of food and water sample which is also given status of Nodal Lab by FSSAI (Annexure IV). The Centre has been granted externally funded projects from time to time through various nodal organizations such as UGC, DST, APEDA, UPCAR etc.

Thrust Areas:

- To strengthen R & D in the area of food safety and health foods.
- To establish Industry-Academia interactions for internship and in-plant training for better placements of students.
- Upgrading Food Analysis and Research Laboratory (FARL) for testing of food samples for nearby industries.

CENTRE OF MEDIA STUDIES

Introduction:

The Centre of Media Studies was established under the Institute of Professional Studies, University of Allahabad in May 2003. It began with PG Diploma in Photojournalism & Visual Communication in August 2003. The Centre started 3-year degree course B.A. in Media Studies from the session 2009-10 and 5-year Integrated B.Voc. & M.Voc. programme in Media Studies from the session 2015-16.

In recent times, mass communication has undergone a paradigm shift and has emerged as a major area of activity greatly impacting the process of decision-making. It has rapidly acquired importance and prominence and has become a major attraction for students pursuing different academic disciplines. The information Technology Revolution has significantly contributed to the expansion and changing contours of the mass media. It has also posed major challenges for students, teachers and practitioners of the discipline. Rapidly changing technology is transforming the very complexion of the discipline in a manner unknown to any other area of academic activity. The need of the hour undoubtedly is to respond effectively to emerging challenges for maintaining and enhancing the effectiveness of mass media, while simultaneously exploring and expanding the engagement with the new media. Accordingly, the centre continuously evaluates and revises its course curricula so as to effectively meet contemporary challenges thrown up by the fast-changing environment. This enables the effectiveness of the Courses being run by the centre, even in the changed scenario.

Highlights: Centre has adequate facilities, modern class rooms, well equipped computer, Digital Photography & Video Editing Lab, library with Book Bank Facility and Well update Media Research Cell.

Thrust Areas:

The Centre prepares students for employment in the media industry. The courses have been designed for the real world of contemporary media. Students work with industry standard equipment gaining skills in media production (print, broadcast and online), research, communication, reporting and media handling. We believe that a combination of writing and production skills either in print, television, radio or Web ; a broad understanding of the media and the ability to think critically are essential for people who are planning careers in the rapidly evolving media industry.

NATIONAL CENTRE OF EXPERIMENTAL MINERALOGY AND PETROLOGY

Introduction:

The National Centre of Experimental Mineralogy and Petrology (NCEMP) is a University of Allahabad research Institute/centre. It was established for the advancement of high-pressure-temperature research in India. There are different types of High Pressure Temperature equipments such as Multi-Anvil High Pressure-Temperature apparatus (unique in India), Piston Cylinder High P-T equipment and Hydrothermal apparatus. The centre has sophisticated analytical equipments such as Electron Probe Micro Analyzer and powder XRD equipments for material characterization. It also has a well-equipped workshop and other technical facilities (quenching apparatus, hot press and ball milling techniques). The NCEMP also conducts synthesis of advanced novel materials such as sol-gel.

Fundamental research in the field of high pressure and temperature mineralogy and petrology of the Earth is being conducted in this centre. We are conducting experiments for measurements of conductivity of various materials like polymer, gel or rock samples with frequency and temperature, change in phase at high pressure and temperature, seismic velocity and rate of ascent of magma, etc. under high-pressure and temperatures. Other research work such as synthesis of glasses from silica sand applying magnetic separation technique and nano polymer composite materials are also undertaken. Recently facilities for gemstone synthesis and characterization are being developed to promote gemmology.

The NCEMP provides high quality analytical facilities to students and researchers. Periodically research scholars, students and faculty members from various institutes, constituent colleges and universities are exposed to the research facilities available through Short Courses, Laboratory Visits and lectures etc.

Future Plan of Action: Tasks Ahead in 2018-19

The Rajiv Gandhi Chair proposes to engage in following works, if tenure extended further than 31 March 2019 by the University Grants Committee, New Delhi-

- Most importantly, the Chair at present does not have its complete strength; there are five vacant positions out of seven that includes one position of Chair Professor, two positions of Junior Research Fellow and two positions of Technical Assistant. These appointments that have been halted due to uncertainties of Chair's continuity and lack of timely availability of grant can be made possible with immediate effect.

- Work is in progress to bring out an edited volume based on the papers presented in the national seminar titled “State, Marginality and Empowerment” organized by the Chair during April 28-29, 2015 is in its final stage. The editing work for the volume is over and is in the process of finalizing the publisher.
- Two project proposals – 1). “Examining the Scope of the Right to Education Act: A Case Study of Allahabad District and 2). Contesting Women’s Empowerment: A Case Study of Women Panchayat Leaders of Allahabad District is under consideration to commence work on them in future. On completion of the project, the report shall be published by the Chair.
- The Chair stands committed to continue to engage in significant academic deliberations by continuing to organize lectures, seminars, conferences, workshops, symposium etc. as done in the past. A number of lectures are currently lined up for the current academic session 2018-19.
- The Chair intends to hold short-term certificate courses for students as well as organize capacity building programmes for teachers in higher education on issues of contemporary relevance, here of course the focus would be on a). Nuclear Disarmament; b). Secularism & Nation Building and c). Social Justice. Experts from academia, media as well as NGOs of related area would be invited to deliver lectures on relevant topics. The short-term certificate course would be spread around 10-15 days so that a particular topic is covered thoroughly and at the end of every course the students would be issued certificates.
- As done in the past, Chair intends to continue with the organizing panel discussions on topics that contemporarily assumes national importance and deserves to be explored. For example the Chair is considering at present a proposal of organizing a panel discussion on the ‘Disgruntled Youths of Jammu & Kashmir: Myth Vs Reality’.
- Chair proposes to publish its lecture series in future. It has been proposed that the lectures shall be thematically arranged to come out with an edited volume based on the collection.

STUDENTS' WELFARE ACTIVITIES

OFFICE OF DEAN STUDENTS' WELFARE

The year that has gone by was marked with the DSW set up making tangible gains by way of consolidation and giving thrust to its major initiatives. The year also erased the shadows/pangs of transition in a large measure. Better amenities, larger financial allocation in assistance to students, better healthcare, hygiene, sporting activities and, the last but not least, the hard fought and won peace and tranquility in hostels and the campus have been the cornerstone of the multifaceted activities of the preceding year. Progress and development have been at the core of all DSW and his team endeavors. The progress, though slow but surefooted, has instilled yet greater resolve to pursue the unfinished agenda of growth. Unquestionably the mood at the DSW set up has been upbeat and triumphant.

Here are some of the modest successes achieved through sustained team spirit and camaraderie to which the DSW Board, teachers, officers, staff, and students have contributed immensely.

CENTRAL FACILITIES

CENTRAL LIBRARY

Introduction:

The Central Library has started its journey on the path of improvement. It was established to cater the needs of the students, research scholars, and teachers of the University. It not only helps in supporting the class room instructional programmes of the university, but also unfolds the horizon of knowledge with regard to the different research programmes carried out by the university.

The Central Library developed out of the library of the Muir Central College, Allahabad (established in 1872, and affiliated with the university from 1872 to 1922, when it was subsumed in the university upon beginning its career as a teaching university). Foundation stone of the university library building was laid by Sir John Hewett on 17th Jan.1910. The University Library was started in 1916. In 1946-47, Dr.S.R. Ranganathan, Father of Library Science in India, was invited to suggest ways and means of improving the library. He submitted the development plan in March 1947, which was published by the university in the same year. Its contents covered wide range of areas: such as new library building, manpower, finance and other relevant items. A special committee was constituted to review the library development plan submitted by Dr. Ranganathan. The committee pointed out that the central library building constructed in 1913-16 was inadequate. The most satisfactory thing would be to erect a new building designed in accordance with the modern library practice. It recommended the conversion of the Darbhanga Hall into a reading room for 500 under-graduates (250 on the ground floor and 250 on the first floor. A portion of the graduates reading room was to be divided into private cubicles for the use by serious students or research scholars. After some times it was felt that space in Darbhanga hall is inadequate to store the reading materials and provide library services.. The present library building was constructed in 1973. The present library building is more spacious and has potential for further expansion. The old library building is now occupied by the office of the Registrar, as well as Accounts and General section of the University.

Dewey Decimal Classification Scheme (DDC) and Anglo American Cataloguing Rules-2nd edition (AACR-2) are followed for the purpose of classifying and cataloguing the documents. LIBSYS-4, Library Management Software is being used for creation of database.

ENGINEERING AND WORKS DEPARTMENT

Introduction

After regaining the Central Status, University has added more than 65000 Sq. mtr. of plinth area during last 10 years and several projects are under pipe line for execution which will add additional plinth area to the University.

The varied nature of buildings, its architecture, age of infrastructures, satellite nature of campuses, etc. poses great challenge to cope-up with the pressure for its proper maintenance and prompt disposal of problems of the users.

The University Engineer supported by various categories of technical staff is heading the Engineering Section of the University. The available staffs with the University Engineer are as per the need of the University when it was State University with limited resources and infrastructure. However as the University started expanding its infrastructure tuning to the changed need of the University, the need of expanding the technical work force is also being felt. The Executive Council has approved the structure of the office of the University Engineer which is as follow:

Establishment of North Hall as Meeting Cum Seminar Hall

Constructed in 1912 Senate Hall Building was designed by the renowned Architect Sir Swinton Jacob. The building has three major components viz North Hall, Senate Hall & South Hall. The Building has been built in the Indo-Saracenic style having European layout and well planed interior. North Hall of the Senate Building was used for holding meetings of various natures. As a part of augmenting the existing infrastructure preserving the heritage the North Hall was upgraded converting it into modern meeting cum seminar hall having facility of air conditioning, public address system, power point presentation, etc. The facility is under regular use and caters the need of University to hold meetings/seminar.

Establishment of Finance Officer and Registrar Office

In continuation of establishment of a centralized administrative setup in phase by manner the work for the office of the Finance Officer and Registrar was completed and made functional.

Internal Repair and painting of Entire University Hostel

In view of the order of Hon'ble High Court the entire hostel of the University was evicted after a period of more than 30 years and as per the order the hostels were internally repaired and painted within record time of one month.

OTHER ACTIVITIESUNIVERSITY INDUSTRY INTERFACE CELL*Rationale

The University Industry Interface Cell (UIIC) has been established in February 2014 after the initiative of Prof. A.K. Singh, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor of University of Allahabad to facilitate the development of symbiotic relationships between the University and partners from different industrial sectors. It will act as a dynamic liaison unit with industry counterparts in order to identify opportunities to develop innovative solutions for technological and industrial problems in aid of national development.

Mission

The mission of the UIIC is to foster ties with industries through continual dialogue. This interface is envisioned to keep the University's research and academic programs responsive to industry needs and relevant to national development goals.

Objectives

- To strengthen University Industry linkage
- To provide venues for continual dialogue with various industrial sectors through symposia, exhibitions and roundtable discussions.
- To help identify relevant directions for the University's research thrusts and academic programs based on up-to-date feedback from industry partners.
- To maintain congenial relations with industry partners committed to supporting the University's industrial internship programs in the undergraduate and postgraduate levels.
- To identify opportunities for extending relations with industry through various activities, including commissioned research projects and topic-oriented technical seminars.

Benefits of University-Industry Linkage to the Industry

- Access to manpower, including well-trained graduates and knowledgeable faculty from the university;
- Access to basic and applied research results from which new products and processes will evolve;
- Solutions to specific problems or professional expertise, not usually found in an individual firm
- Access to university facilities, not available in the industry
- Assistance in continuing education and training
- Being good local citizens or fostering good community relations

Benefits of University-Industry Linkage to the University

- Industrially sponsored research provides student with exposure to real world research problems
- Industrially sponsored research provides university researchers a chance to work on an intellectually challenging research programs;
- Some government funds are available for applied research, based upon a joint effort between university and industry.
- Industry provides a new source of money for university

Activities during 2017-18Innovation Club of University of Allahabad selected in Top Ten Innovators of the country

A team of three scientists comprises Prof. M.P. Singh (Biotechnologist), Dr. Lokendra Kumar (Physicist) and Dr. Awadh B Yadav (Biotechnologist) of Innovation Club, University of Allahabad participated in the Festival of Innovation and Entrepreneurship (FINE) during March 20-21, 2018 at Rashtrapati Bhavan and selected in Top Ten Innovators of the country out of 70 proposal received from India's premier Institutions. The Festival of Innovation & Entrepreneurship

(FINE) is a unique initiative of the office of the President of India to recognise, Celebrate, respect and reward grassroots innovations and foster a supportive ecosystem. FINE also provides the platform to the innovators for building the linkages with potential stakeholders whose support can improve their prospects in coming years for the larger social good.

Prof. M. P. Singh innovated low cost mushroom cultivation technology on locally available agrowastes to sort out both the problems of agro-wastes accumulation and malnutrition by producing cheaper protein on valueless agro-wastes. This low cost technology can motivate farmers and underprivileged people to go for startup industry. This will mitigate unemployment and improve socio-economic condition of uneducated, unskilled landless poor farmers. This technology can also be used for remediation of heavy metals and toxins from coal washery effluents as well as dye industries

Dr. Lokendra Kumar presented some design and operation of emerging next generation solar cells which are different from conventional Inorganic-Silicon Solar cells and a topic of great interest for potentially low cost solar energy conversion into electrical energy and possibility of many novel applications e.g. portable solar cells, and building integrated solar cells etc. Here, the key message is the importance of understanding of basic materials properties of organic and hybrid materials and new designs to get very low cost and efficient devices.

Dr. Awadh developed cheap biodegradable Sanitary napkins which can easily fabricated using cheaply available materials locally i.e. banana fibres, pineapple fibres etc. This will prevent 23% of girls drop out from School due to menstruation cycle and 14% girls reported to have menstrual infection.

UNIVERSITY PLACEMENT CELL (UPC)

Vision:

“The University Placement Cell, University of Allahabad envisions and strives to be the most preferred and one stop destination for prospective employers, looking for qualified and fresh human resource from different streams.”

Mission:

“Our mission is to work towards enhancing the employability of the students of the University through continuous personality development programmes, workshops and active engagement of all the stakeholders. Creating awareness and inclination towards recent and relevant internship and job prospects and to facilitate both on and off campus placement opportunities.”

Introduction:

Higher Education in the 21st century is confronted with an ever changing world and India too is experiencing a paradigm shift in the role of Higher Education in national development. For this the HE system requires quality teachers who are knowledgeable, creative, inspiring, good researchers, IT savvy, effective managers and role models, The UGC-Human Resource Development Centre (formerly Academic Staff College), University of Allahabad has envisaging its new multidimensional and integrative role in HE, become an active hub of academic activity for improving the quality of teachers which is the single most crucial and critical success factor for sustenance of HE in the present era of globalization, Realizing the different paradigms for quality management in HE, which include the paradigm of process control (accreditation) , paradigm of integral quality management (TQM and EFQM) and paradigm of breakthrough and innovations, the HRDC has based its activities primarily on three components- quality of design, quality of conformance and quality of performance in order to control its quality and meet the standards required for assuring quality in teachers of HE and to train and develop human resource fit to face the challenges of HE in the Indian as well as the global context The main aim .of the Human Resource Development Centre (HRDC) has been to facilitate quality education by upgrading the knowledge and performance of teachers serving in Universities and their affiliated Colleges. The programmes covering a wide spectrum of subjects have provided the crucial link between motivation of teachers for creative and innovative teaching and research, commitment towards their profession, academic leadership and quality education. Some of the approaches undertaken by this HRDC to fulfill its aims to enhance the personality, performance, awareness and knowledge of the teacher participants include-

ARYA KANYA DEGREE COLLEGE

Introduction:

The College, affiliated to the Allahabad University was founded on the principles of Maharshi Dayanand Saraswati and established in the year 1975, the International Year of Women. It was declared a Constituent College of Allahabad University on 14th July, 2005 the year the University achieved Central status.

The goals and objectives of the College which is situated in the thickly populated area of the city are focused towards education and empowerment of women specially from the backward areas. Our endeavour has been to promote independent thinking among young girls and make them responsible citizens so that they play the role of an anchor in their own families.

Thrust Areas:

The College organizes lectures by outstanding academicians. These lectures are very beneficial both for faculty members and students as exchange of ideas broadens the outlook of both the teachers and the students. The teachers update themselves with the latest information.

Career counseling is given to the students from time to time by career experts. It is a process that helps the students to know and understand themselves and the world of work in order to make career, educational and life decisions.

We encourage sports and games both indoor and outdoor because physical exercise and training provide good health which is necessary for physical health and intellectual pursuits. Such activities cultivates a spirit of healthy competition among the students. Yoga training is also given to the students. Yoga is not a religion, it is a way of living and helps to promote a balanced development of physical, mental and spiritual well-being.

Vocational and job oriented courses enables the students to gain specific skills and recognition. Computer courses, fashion designing, beauty tips by experts, mehndi application helps the students acquire skills and thereby earn a livelihood for themselves and become economically independent.

Participation of students in various competitions organized by the University, other degree Colleges and Societies like quiz, essay writing, debate, folk song, folk dance, mehndi, painting etc. enables the students to showcase their talents and develop a sense of confidence.

The NSS aims to develop the NSS motto “Not me but you”. We arrange a number of programmes to prepare the volunteers to work for community as well as national welfare like shramdaan, lectures visit to malin basti etc.
