

About the Online Programme

These are unprecedented times globally. Humanity is suddenly united through the metaphor of suffering and at the same time deep ruptures in the society have come to the fore. The Pandemic has really changed the way we live and relate to our environment. With this, the ways of knowing about ourselves and our society are bound to change. One the one hand the practice of social research in the context of 'social distancing' and 'body politics' needs to be re-examined and on the other new research questions about social structure and organization needs to be asked. It is in this context that we need to re-visit research methodology. When established concepts inhabit unfamiliar spaces they acquire a new kind of life. With this in mind the UGC-HRDC at the University of Allahabad, Prayagraj is organizing this Online Programme.

Topics to be Covered

Basic Tenets of Social Research, Objective/Subjective debate, The Ethnographic Method, Gender Issues in Research, Ethics in Research, Doing Research in the times of Pandemic: Issues of Caste and Migration.
